The Ink People incubates diverse programs and fledgling organizations. Watch this space for detailed descriptions of our many programs. Call Libby at 445-0700 for further information.

In December, the Board didn't review any new DreamMaker projects, but instead, received a report from our fabulous Archivists, Suzanne Guerra and Edie Butler. They have been working tirelessly for months going through the records and things we managed to salvage from the Muni facility. According to them, we did pretty well.

The Archivists are interested in activist and social movements, especially locally, and wanted to work with The Ink People because of how we have used the arts as an organizing and community change making tool. They have seen how the arts activism of this region ripples beyond us.

They have preliminarily organized and labeled 73 boxes and other assorted containers of archival materials. It is by no means finished, but someone could conduct research on the history of The Ink People the way it is now.

The most immediate need is a place to store the materials that is warm and dry. Paper goods are comfortable where people would be comfy. After they are secure, we will be looking for funding to support further sorting and cataloging. We also want to reach out to DreamMaker projects, both past and present, to include their archival materials.

This is very exciting for me because I am the packrat who has been hoarding all this stuff, and it's nice to know it was worthwhile. Brenda Tuxford, our co-founder and historian until her death in August 2004, had preserved the meeting notes from the very first get-togethers and had taken many photos of activities, exhibits, and fundraisers for 25 years.

I hope everyone had the happiest of holidays and wish you a wondrous new year.

Libby Maynard
